Finding Peace Through Strength

AUGUST 2017

We apologize for the additional mail in your inbox. The last email newsletter included an incorrect title for our latest blog which has now been corrected.

Good morning!

This month's edition of our e-newsletter explains how Connecticut courts determine alimony.

We hope you continue to find these newsletters valuable, and if you have any questions about this month's topic (or any family law topic), please reach out to us today.

Have a great day!

DETERMINING ALIMONY IN CONNECTICUT

Divorce between any two parties can be difficult, yet when a couple has a lot of assets and needs to address the issue of alimony, things can become even more complex. In the state of Connecticut, the guidelines for determining alimony aren't necessarily as strict as they might be in other parts of the country. Let's examine some of the key components of what contributes to alimony apportionment and what you can expect...

TEAM 100 REFERRAL SPOTLIGHT

The McConnell Family Law Group maintains a list of referral resources for our clients. We call this our "Team 100 Referral List." We understand that during the course of a family dispute, our clients often require the services of various professionals in other fields. Please feel free to contact us if you are in need of a referral.

Each month professionals from our Team 100 Referral List are chosen from Fairfield County and Central Connecticut and highlighted in our newsletter. This month, we present Rabbi Andrew P. Hechtman:

Rabbi Andrew P. Hechtman,

*Parenting Coordination, Couple Therapy,
Divorce Counseling, Collaborative Divorce
Coach, Peacemaking*

and Changing Families CT

CT Judicial Provider Parent Education Classes - Hamden, Stratford, Westport

- Rabbi Andy Hechtman is a trained Parent Coordinator. He is an expert in child development, conflict management, and divorce mediation.
- Family Resolutions: private practice devoted to helping people of all ages, faiths and lifestyles find pathways to peace in times of family restructuring. Sometimes "reconciliation" means being together as a couple and sometimes "reconciliation" means parting ways, but doing so respectfully. Children often need special support to not feel afraid and understand their parents' decisions.
- Collaborative Divorce Coach: Rabbi Hechtman works with you and your attorneys to help you to negotiate and communicate emotional concerns while helping you navigate this difficult time in a respectful and constructive manner. If you have children, he helps you cooperatively develop your Parenting Plan in the best interests of your children.
- Changing Families CT: divorce education offering an evidence-based program for the mandatory CT Parent Education Program classes in Stratford, Hamden and Westport.
