Finding Peace Through Strength

JUNE 2017

Good morning!

This month's edition of our e-newsletter explains what you need to do if you have been the victim of domestic violence. We hope you continue find these newsletters valuable, and if you have any questions about this month's topic (or any family law topic), please reach out to us today.

As many of you know, I am an avid supporter of high school athletics. While I am a lifelong Ram, I devote much of my time now supporting the two local high schools in my adopted hometown. This month's newsletter honors the celebrated Hall/Conard rivalry by spotlighting teammates that bleed blue (Kate) and red (Beth).

Have a great day!

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE – BREAKING THE CYCLE

Victims of domestic violence are often scared and unsure what they can legally do to protect themselves and their family from their abuser. To help ensure the safety of its residents, Connecticut has some protections in place for victims of domestic violence. By understanding what domestic violence is and what options are available for victims, you can better protect yourself from

TEAM 100 REFERRAL SPOTLIGHT

The McConnell Family Law Group maintains a list of referral resources for our clients. We call this our “Team 100 Referral List.” We understand that during the course of a family dispute, our clients often require the services of various professionals in other fields. Please feel free to contact us if you are in need of a referral.

Each month professionals from our Team 100 Referral List are chosen from Fairfield County and Central Connecticut and highlighted in our newsletter. This month, we present Kate Wells and Beth Barry Brown.
